

New product A-110S BS01 Limited,
the monaural power amplifier,
is released limited to 110.

BEWITH announces the launch of A-110S BS01 Limited, which is developed with the technology of the award-winning* Accurate A-110S, at the Osaka Auto Messe 2011.

Following "BS01" the high sound quality operational amplifier, the industry's first cutting-edge, super fast, supreme sound quality diodes, "BD01", "BD02A", and "BD02K" were jointly developed by New Japan Radio Co., Ltd. and BEWITH. The inimitable premium sound is created by all the components of constant effort. Only for this limited model, the product logo and serial number are engraved on the top plate by the special optic etching.

Model name : Accurate A-110S BS01 Limited

Release date : The beginning of March, 2011

We have always been seeking the new aspect of the audio which no one has ever thought of. How can we immediately take the listener by storm? How can we create more emotional BEWITH? One of the answers to the questions is the new step from stringent selection of the materials to the creation of new materials. The experts of two companies share the ideas and create a new product with competing with each other over one's skills. A-110S BS01 Limited was created by paying attention to the detail, keeping listening over and over, and producing the components from scratch.
